Introduction

The National Child development Study, Sweep 8 (NCDS 8) was carried out using computer assisted personal interviewing (CAPI) and computer assisted self-interviewing (CASI). The survey instrument is a computer program written in a software package called Blaise. This document is a paper representation of this computer program.

1.1 Structure of the questionnaire

This paper representation covers the following sections of the CAPI questionnaire for NCDS8: household grid, main respondent interview and proxy interview. The household grid was the first section of the CAPI and would have been completed in all productive cases. It was completed by the main respondent or a proxy carer if necessary. Information about the household members was collected in this section. The respondent then received a CAPI and CASI questionnaire that included questions about themselves, their children, and the household situation.

The CAPI interview includes four event history modules: Housing, Relationship history, Births and Employment. These modules ask cohort members to update their situation in these areas in chronological order from a point set by the CAPI program. The date at which the cohort member is asked to update their situation from depends on when they were last interviewed.

Cohort members interviewed since 1st October 1999 (i.e. in sweep 6 (1999/2000) and/or sweep 7 (2004/5)) are asked to update their situation from the date of their last interview.

Cohort members who have not been interviewed since 1st October 1999 (and may never have been interviewed) are asked to update their situation from a set start point, the 1st January 2000, for all modules except the Births module. For the Births module, these cohort members are asked to update their situation from the date of their sixteenth birthday.

1.2 Features of the documentation

1.2.1 Modules

The CAPI questionnaire comprises modules that contain a list of all the questions, answer options, and the routing conditions or 'rules' which govern when a particular question should be asked. In general, the heading of each module summarises the topics covered and gives the module title.

1.2.2 Questions and answers

In CAPI, rather than being numbered, questions are given a unique name which is usually derived from the content of the question. Question names are identified by their bold formatting. The text of the question that should be read out by the interviewer is displayed in sentence case, with the end of the question usually indicated by a question mark.

At most questions, the respondent chooses his/her answer(s) from a pre-defined list which is either read out to him/her by the interviewer or which he/she reads from a show card presented by the interviewer. At other times the respondent is not offered a pre-defined choice of answer categories. Instead the interviewer codes their spontaneous response into a pre-defined list of answers.

Alternatively the interviewer may be asked to record the verbatim answer, which then appears in a 'STRING' rather than 'Number'. At 'STRING' answers, the number of characters allowed is limited (although interviewers can, where necessary, enter more characters in an electronic memo). For instance, in the documentation 'STRING60' indicates that a maximum of 60 characters is allowed. At 'OPEN' questions, there is no limit on the number of characters. Interviewers may also be asked to enter answers in the form of a date, time or number.

Questions at which a pre-defined list of answers are given can be split into two types: single-coded and multi-coded. Single-coded questions allow only one answer category to be chosen – unless otherwise stated, the question is single-coded. Multi-coded questions are usually identified by a note to the interviewer to 'CODE ALL THAT APPLY' and allow more than one answers to be recoded. At some multi-coded questions, one of the answers may be an 'exclusive code'. This means that if this answer is chosen, no other answers may be chosen at the same time. If this answer is chosen alongside other answers, CAPI activates a check.

Unless otherwise stated all questions also allow 'Don't Know' and 'Refusal' answers to be entered. Where these are not allowed, it is stated below the answers.

We also use a long box at the beginning of some sections which contain a set of repeated questions about a particular event or about multiple members in the household.

1.2.3 Routing instructions

Routing instructions are fully detailed in italics at appropriate points. The routing condition is both explained in words and given in terms of the logical command. The expressions '<' ,'=', '>' are used to denote 'less than', 'equal to' and 'more than' respectively. The term '<>' means 'not equal to'. The routing condition is displayed immediately before the first question to which it applies and is indicated by an 'IF' statement. The end of the influence of a particular routing condition is indicated by an 'END OF FILTER' instruction.

In the routing statements variables or questions will be referred to. If the question is from another module, then the question name will be prefixed by the module name. For instance, 'QHGRID.RELTOKEY = 1' indicates that the question RELTOKEY is in the module 'QHGRID' (the household grid module).

Additionally, if the routing uses 'feed forward' information from a prior interview, that variable will be referred to with the prefix 'QFEEDF' (for 'Feed Forward'). Thus 'QFEEDF.DECONACT' refers to the variable DECONACT (cohort member's economic activity) at a prior interview.

1.2.4 Textfill

In some cases the text of a question may be varied automatically to take account of the particular circumstances of the respondent using a 'textfill'. These possible different wordings are defined along with the circumstances in which they are used. In other words, textfills are used to tailor the question wording to the respondent's circumstances. Textfills are preceded by '[^' and followed by ']'. When more than one possible textfill appears within a question, they are separated by '/' .

For example, reference to the name of the cohort member or other persons in the household will be documented as [^Cohort member's name] and [^Household member's name] respectively.

There are some other common textfills that are used repeatedly throughout the questionnaire:

> ➤ [^he / she], [^his / her] refer to gender and should be read accordingly
> ➤ [^Date of last interview] refers to the day, month and year of the previous interview e..g. '15th of June 2004'.

1.2.5 Checks

An advantage of CAPI questionnaires is that checks can be included in the program to alert interviewers when an unlikely or impossible response has been entered.

'Hard' checks can be used to prevent logical inconsistency (for example so that the cohort member cannot be younger than his / her children). In such circumstances, a warning screen is activated to alert the interviewer to the problem and instruct the interviewer to change the answer recorded. The interviewer cannot bypass hard checks – they must identify the problem and resolve the discrepancy before proceeding.

'Soft' checks are used to bring improbabilities to the attention of the interviewer. For example, if the weight of the cohort member is higher or lower than expected. In such situations the interviewer is instructed to investigate the improbable answer and make any necessary corrections. If the interviewer is confident that the information given is correct, they may suppress the warning and continue with the interview.

Most modules contain checks so that interviewers can resolve/check them with the respondents during the course of interview. Checks are referenced at the question at which they occur (e.g. Check HH1) and specified in detail at the end of this documentation.

1.2.6 Help screen

Some modules contain a help screen, which is a text box providing additional information to facilitate defining and coding answers during the interview. The help screen is activated by the interviewer by pressing F9. Help screens are indicated and described at the question at which they occur.

1.2.7 The Code Book

At some questions in CAPI, respondents are given the opportunity to choose an 'other' answer and have this answer entered as STRING or OPEN text by the interviewer. Coding of these texts was conducted in the post-fieldwork data work, and this often involved creating additional codes for questions. Details of the coding can be found in the accompanying 'Code book'. The questions affected are indicated in the documentation at the questions themselves, with the statement 'Please refer to the code book'.

1.2.8 Income information and 'unfolding brackets'

A feature of the income questions (gross and net) in NCDS8 is the use of a series of questions referred to as 'unfolding brackets' which are triggered if a respondent refuses or is unable to provide an exact answer. The questions are designed to to elicit a minimum and maximum value which define a range or "closed band" within which the actual value lies.

On entering the unfolding brackets, respondents are asked to say whether they have more, less or about the same as a particular value. This question is repeated using different values (which will be a lower or higher value depending on the answer to the preceding question).

The procedure stops at the point when either an upper and lower bound is provided, the respondent refuses or says "don't know", or the respondent places themselves in the top or bottom bracket.

The unfolding bracket questions are randomly ordered for each respondent such that any possible 'anchoring' effects (i.e. where people use the suggested figure as a reference point and make adjustments to it to reach their answer) from the procedure are averaged across the distribution, and the bracket values are selected on the basis of the density of the underlying financial variable.

[7] The relationship grid is made up of one standard question set. The question at which the Cohort Member joins the grid depends on their legal and de facto marital status at the set start point (date of last interview/1st January 2000). For example:

- Cohort Members who were separated are first asked if they divorced their ex-partner (RDIVCEX)
- Cohort Members who were cohabiting are first asked if they married that partner (RMARCP),
- Cohort Members who were married are first asked if they are still living together with the same partner (RTOG) and,
- Cohort Members who were single but have had since had at least one cohabiting relationship/legal union are first asked for details about their first relationship (PNME)

Please see technical report for structural diagram of relationship history grid.

[8] There may be up to two 'open' relationships – if a legal relationship has not yet been dissolved but a new cohabiting relationship has already started

[9] An unfinished legal union refers to circumstances where the CM has separated from their spouse or civil partner but has not divorced or dissolved the partnership.

| | IF THE WORK PATTERN IS NOT BASED ON A WEEK: get an average over the last
| | four weeks. If the CM has been off sick for a long period, take the usual hours worked
| | before going sick.
| | IF A PERSON HAS RECENTLY STARTED A NEW JOB: the usual hours should relate
| | to what the person expects them to be in the future.
| | FOR APPRENTICES, TRAINEES AND OTHER PEOPLE IN VOCATIONAL TRAINING:
| | exclude any time spent in school or other special training centres outside their
| | workplace.
| | CM's WORKING ON-CALL: If someone states at the hours questions that they usually
| | work 24 hours a day because they are 'on call', the average number of hours actually
| | worked should be probed for. Identify how many hours were actually worked in the last
| | four weeks and average these out to give a weekly total for usual hours. This should | | include only those hours during which the CM was actually working. Therefore if, for
| | example, a CM was 'on-call' all night, but was only called out to work for two hours,
| | the actual working hours for this night would be two hours.
| | SELF-EMPLOYED PEOPLE often find it difficult to give precise figures. It is important,
| | however, that we have information about their hours worked to compare these with the
| | hours worked by employees. If necessary, encourage them to work things through on a
| | daily basis and get as accurate a figure as possible.

Now for something slightly different. The next part of the interview involves me giving you the computer so that you can read and answer the questions by yourself without anyone seeing or hearing the answers. When you have finished, your answers will be automatically locked up in the computer so I cannot look at them. The questions are about your views on a variety of topics and some questions about your day to day activities and family life. One question will appear on the screen at a time. When you have read the question, please type in the number which corresponds to your answer and then press the ENTER key (INTERVIEWER DEMONSTRATE). The next question will automatically appear on the screen. If you have any questions please ask me. Would you be willing to have a go?
